

The City ~ 1939 Housing in America Documentary

The Regional Planning Association of America produced this film in the late 1930's, hoping to put an end to the growth of large overcrowded cities and instead promote new suburban communities better suited to the needs and well-being of people.