

Moladi: Developing Affordable Housing Solutions in South Africa

www.inclusivebusiness.org. Moladi, a small family-run business based in South Africa's Eastern Cape Province, is innovating to address the challenge building sustainable housing for low-income communities. It utilizes a unique plastic injection molded technology to produce cast-in-place mortar structures. The process allows unskilled laborers to use indigenous materials to quickly and cheaply construct high standard permanent buildings that are earthquake, cyclone and tsunami resistant.

Read

more: <http://www.inclusivebusiness.org/2011/01/moladi-affordable-housing.html>